The Journal of Pacific Studies (JPacS)

JPacS bears witness to the breadth of disciplinary and interdisciplinary approaches represented in the School of Social and Economic Development (SSED). The journal facilitates the publication of research by staff and students of the University of the South Pacific, and also welcomes scholarly contributions from members of other institutions whose work concerns, or is particularly relevant to, Pacific Islands nations. JPacS is normally published twice a year.

The School of Social and Economic Development

Centres, departments and programmes represented in SSED are indicated in the composition of the JPacS Editorial Board shown inside the front cover.

Views expressed in the Journal are not necessarily shared by the Editorial Board, SSED, the USP, or the institutions to which the authors are affiliated. Notice that all material in this issue was written before the overthrow of the Parliament, 19 May 2000.
